About Belize

Belize is one of the most underrated jurisdictions in the Americas. It has a trustworthy, well-established banking business, fantastic trust and foundation options for asset protection, tax optimization opportunities for foreigners, and offers a stable political and economic frame.

Belize is way more than sandy beaches, spicy sun, and crystalline water.

It offers terrific benefits for businesspeople and investors. It has one of the best tax regimes for foreigners in the Americas, with reduced business regulations and a good deal of anonymity. Still, it has a solid regulatory framework, especially for an offshore jurisdiction, and is a safe and stable place from which to create and run a business.

About our Corporate Services in Belize

Over the past decades, Belize has built perfect opportunities for expats and investors. The country has had the IBC (International Business Company) figure for years, which has been its star on corporate structures.

And the IBC is an entirely tax-free corporate structure in Belize. What if your business doesn't qualify for IBC? Well, you can still establish an LLC that can serve as an asset protection vehicle.

And we can help you with both in Mundo.

The International Business Company (IBC)

Today, Belize's IBCs can:

- Be incorporated by residents and non-residents
- Do business locally and with Belizean residents
- Own land in Belize
- Hold shares in Belizean businesses

As usual, if IBCs in Belize don't do business with local companies and individuals (the only exception is doing business with another IBC that doesn't do business with local companies and individuals), they don't pay any Belizean taxes. You read that right, IBCs are entirely tax-free in Belize.

And they have built a fair process to create them. The incorporation process is reasonably simple.

IBCs are simple to incorporate, and practically any business can be incorporated as an IBC in Belize. The fact that they only require one director and one shareholder means that a sole trader can establish an IBC for tax optimization purposes. The main requirement is having a registered office in Belize with a certain degree of physical operations.

IBC is ideal for a wide array of businesses:

- Companies providing services or trading products with affiliates
- Holding companies
- Companies obtaining revenues from intellectual property
- E-Commerce
- Inheritance management
- Consultants
- IT companies

The Limited Liability Company (LLC)

As you may know, LLCs as a corporate structure originated in the US a while ago and are usually available in most offshore jurisdictions. The Belizean laws provide incredible asset protection possibilities through the LLC, which isn't generally common in most jurisdictions.

This business structure is ideal for those that want to protect their assets without using funds or foundations.

LLCs are a hybrid between a corporation and a partnership. Corporations generally avoid unlimited personal liability of shareholders but lead to taxation over multiple levels of the earnings of the corporation. A limited liability partnership avoids multiple taxation but requires unlimited liability of at least one general partner.

LLCs, at the same time, avoid multiple level taxation and limits the liability of its members only to the extent they've made to the company. The members of an LLC don't have any personal responsibility for the company's debts unless it has been previously arranged.

The law is frontally directed towards discouraging litigation against LLCs and protecting the company and its beneficiaries.

And, of course as the IBC, LLCs are exempted from taxes, duties, and exchange control in Belize.

Other corporate structures

However, if you are looking to do business in Belize, and not mainly from Belize, but internationally, Belize offers more opportunities for you to choose from.

Belize has a ton of touristic and agro-industrial potential, and investors know that.

Establishing such businesses in Belize takes a while longer but opening a business that can operate in Belize and buy or sell products and services to citizens and local residents can bring significant benefits for investors. It's also a fantastic option for foreigners wishing to retire in Belize but still want to operate a small business.

What can we do for you?

In today's world, there are lesser and lesser places where investors, high net worth individuals, and businesspeople can protect their assets and distribute dividends from.

But there are still freedom heavens such as Belize that give you plenty of flexibility and asset protection possibilities.

Even better, Belize is a top jurisdiction for retirees and mid-level investors and businesspeople, because processes are not cost-prohibitive for them.

And that's where we come in

In Mundo, along with NTL Trust, we have 25 years helping our clients protect their assets.

Belize is one of our favorite jurisdictions. Quietly, it has created a legal and economic framework that is perfect for investors. We are authorized agents in the country and have helped dozens of investors protect their assets in this gorgeous country.
